

First international ascent of St. Jerome

Special celebration of the International Translation Day

STAR Servicios Lingüísticos celebrated the International Translation Day by climbing the peak of St. Jerome (the patron saint of translators), the highest point of the Montserrat mountain range.

The day began slightly overcast, but it soon turned into a beautiful day, not only because of the sun and blue skies, but also because of the great atmosphere and camaraderie that prevailed throughout the day.

Upon reaching the summit, we congratulated each other on having made it and enjoyed the stunning views, and along the way we laughed, we got tired, we sweated, we talked, we ate... Ultimately, we shared a great day that we will remember for a long time.

Thanks to everyone for making it possible!
